

The Call: Official PSA Resource for Referee & Player Development

The Professional Squash Association, with the full support of the World Squash Federation, has developed a web-based TV channel with the aim of bringing the World Squash singles rules to life.

PSA's "Mission Statement" is as follows:

"It is the goal and responsibility of every player and referee to make each game we participate in, flow to the best of our ability, helping to improve the image and watchability of our uniquely exciting, dynamic and demanding sport"

The examples of the interpretation of the rules shown on The Call aim to help achieve the goals as described in the above statement. Another aim for the channel is to help to create discussion points while developing a consistent interpretation and application of the rules around the world.

Improving the flow of the game goes hand in hand with the ever-increasing television exposure that the game is receiving; at the recent Commonwealth Games, 1 million viewers watched England's Nick Matthew claim Gold versus compatriot James Willstrop.

The great news is that the channel is accessible to anyone who wants to view it in order to see how the game is being interpreted at the PSA level. The overriding goal is of course to improve the flow of the game at all levels.

On the home page you will see the most recent activities, under "Headlines" you will see popular collections and videos: you can click these to go directly to the relevant video clips. Alternatively, you can click on "Collections", which will take you to each rule and provide a description of the rule, or click "Explore" which will take you to all of the videos which are appropriately tagged.

Video clips can be viewed in two viewers: HTML5 or the Silverlight app. The latter allows you to see associated keywords and videos. You can change the viewer in the top right corner of the Video or Explore pages.

The CALL is an ongoing project and videos will be continually added, changed and adapted as determined by consensus.

There is much to see and discover so enjoy exploring the site!
